What's New in the Gshellpack For Vista?

gshellpack for Vista is a program that will make your Windows Vista look like the Windows 7. Since Vista is the successor of Windows XP, the design of this shell pack is inspired by Windows XP with a small adjustment, thus resulting in a "g"look. gshellpack for Vista includes two main components: boot.ini and bootloader.wim. The boot.ini is the program for booting Windows Vista. To make the program suitable for Windows 7, the boot.ini just needs to be modified. The bootloader.wim is the Windows Vista's main component. To help you boot Vista without the need to load the boot.ini, the bootloader.wim also can be changed into a bootloader.wim.exe.
