About This Game

Try yourself as an air traffic controller and direct planes to safe landing! Can you land airplanes without crashing them? Can you be as good as the real people who run the show when you are flying? ;)

This is your time to excel and take control of ever more challenging airspaces to navigate planes in! Buckle up as things heat up fast when more and more planes will arrive and rely on you for guidance.

Can you safely navigate the 27 individual levels?
How far you can you go on the 3 endless levels?

I brought this game before any other reviews so I thought that I would be the first. The gameplay is dull at best and more feels like a flash game than something on steam. The only input to the game is the left click mouse button so you don't really feel engaged. To sum up I wouldn't buy this game because there are similar games on mobile V flash.

TLDR : Mobile port with no special gameplay.
